Fever and Ague, from which mankind suffer over a large part of the globe, is the estasequence of a diseased action in the system, induced by the poisonnun minim of vegetable decay. This exhalation is of olved by the action of solar heat on wet soil, and rises with the watery vapor from it. While the sun is below the horizon this vapor lingers near the earth's surface, and the virus is taken with it through the langu into the blood. There it nots with it through the longs into the blood. There it nots as an irritating poison on the internal viscera and excreting organs of the body. The liver becomes torpid and falls to secrete not only this virus, but also the bile noise the bile accumulate in the circulation, and produce violent constitutional disorder. The spinen, the hidneys, and the stomach sympathics with the liver, and become disordered also. Finally, the instinct of our organism, as if in an attempt to expel the zoxious infusion, concentrates the whole blood of the body in the internal excretories to force them to exist it out. The blood leaves the surface, and rushes to the central organs with congestive violence. rushes to the central organs with congestive violence. This is the CHILL But in this effort it fails. Then the PEVER FOllows, in which the blood leaves the central organs and rushes to the surface, as if in another effort expel the critating poison through that other great acretory—the skin. In this also it fails, and the system abandona the attempt exhausted, waiting for the recovery of strength to repeat the hopeless effort another day. These are the fits or paranyams of Fuves and Ague. Such constitutional disorder will of course undermine the health if it is not removed.

We have labored to find, and have found, an artidete,

Ayer's Ague Cure, which neutralizes this malarious poison in the blord, and stimulates the liver to expel it from the body. As it should, so it does ourse this afflicting disorder with it should, so it coes care this afflicting disorder with perfect certainty. And it does more, or rather does what is of more service to those subject to this infection. If taken in season it expels it from the system as it is absorbed, and thus keeps those who use it free from its attacks; keeps the system in health although exposed to the disease. Consequently it not only cures, but protects from, the great variety of effections which are protects from, the great variety of effections which are induced by this malignant influence, such as Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb, or Masked Ague, Periodical Hendache, or Bilious Headache, Bilious Fevers, Neuralgia, Rheamatism, Gout, Blindness, Taothache, Earnche, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitations, Pamful Affections of the Spleen, Hysteries, Colic, Paralysis, and Painful Affections of the Sponen and Bowels; all of which, when arising from this cause, will be found to assume more or less the intermittent type. This "Ague Cuen" removes the cause of these derangements, and cures the disease.

This it accomplishes by atimulating the excretories to expel the virus from the system; and these organs by degrees become habited to do this their office of their own accord. Hence arises what we term acclimatation. Time may accomplish the same end, but often life is not long enough, or is sacrificed in the attempt, while this "AOUR CURE" does it at once, and with safety. We have great reason to believe this is a surer as well as safer remedy for the whole class of diseases which are caused by the missmutic infection, than any other which has been discovered; and it has still another important advantage to the public, which is, that it is cheap as advantage to the public, which is, that it is cheap as

As to the curalive properties of these Waters five experienced resident physicians teatify as follows:

"They are in their effects on the human system: Diuretic, Diag phoretic, Aperient, Highly Alterant, Exhibitent, (indirectly, Powerfully Tonic. They have, perhaps, no rival in efficacy, either in the mineral or vegetable kingdom, for all cases comprehended under the general term Dysopeia with all their many and varied concomitants as Hipochondraiss, Neuratja, Chronic Liver Complaint, enlargement of the Spiren, Sick and Nervous Readache, Debillity, Derangement of the Nervous system, & c.

Their Diuretic properties repoler them a powerful remedy in Rendache, Debility, Derangement of the Nervous system, & c.
Their Directic properties rebser them a powerful remedy in most cases of Chronic Broysy, and affections of the Kidneys.
They are also efficient in Nervourial Discarse, arousing the dormant powers of rishity, and thus assisting nature to disledge and throw off any morbid or poisonous matter from the system.
In short, all cases of general debility and enervation will find a very agreeable and reliable remedy in these waters.
Cases of obstinate Chills and Fevers, and many outuneous discases, as Herpes, or tetters, &c., have been cured by them.
